This term our students have been introduced to Mindful Meditation. We use meditation to calm our students down or at the end of a busy and long day. We have noticed a positive change in our students, such as their attention spans are significantly increased, they are more peaceful and they are able to express compassion to each other. There are even times when our students request to have a meditation session! Meditation reduces anxiety, builds positive peer relationships and enhances anger management skills.